The Eyes of a Child

I recently finished up with my last portrait client for this year. I spent an hour running around after five kids ages one to twelve through a beautiful forestry backyard.

Though at some point we did corral them into sitting all in one area so that one picture would have all the children in it, I find that the camera has less of a negative effect on children if I follow them around while they play than if I try to force them into a pose. Yes, this is more work for me, but the images that are captured contain such an immense amount of personality and character that it is worth the exercise.

Maternity Leave

As of September 5th, 2009 I am officially on maternity leave. I will not be scheduling any portrait appointments until after the new year. This may also be the last newsletter until January, but I am hoping to get a holiday edition out in November. I will continue to update my blog as well as the Etsy and Zazzle stores. Art orders are still welcome, though processing times may be extended to a week during the latter part of September and the early part of October due to the new arrival. If you have any questions please E-mail me at sarah@ardentphotography.com.

Capturing Summer

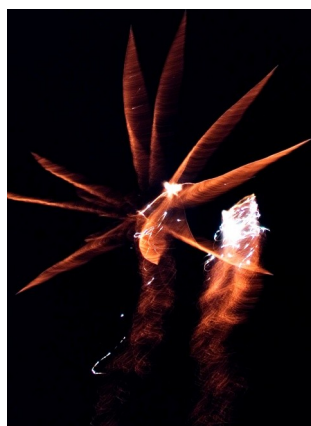

"Foxglove"

As we slowly step into September and the sun begins to disappear behind rain heavy clouds, it is time to grab a hot cup of cocoa and look through all those pictures of summer that have stacked up on your computer. When the weather is nice we often forget to relish the photographs that we take, and enjoy the simplicity of a blooming flower or a happy dog.

Did summer pass you by without a wave hello? Well, take a meander through the Zazzle shop to find summer filled photographs that will lighten up your dreary winter days.

Light up their night with these healthy yet satisfying sandwiches that are fun to eat.

Vegetarian Sloppy Joes

- 1 1/2 Cups Red Onion, Chopped
- 1 Cup Celery, Chopped
- 1 Cup Carrot, Chopped
- 1 Cup Crimini Mushrooms, Chopped
- 1 Tsp Sea Salt, divided
- 1 Tablespoon Dried Oregano
- Fresh Ground Black Pepper
- 1 Block Extra Firm Tofu, Crumbled (or Substitute 1 pound Ground Beef)
- 2 Teaspoons Garlic, minced
- 2 Teaspoons Garlic Granules
- 26 ounces Spaghetti Sauce (I used Hunts)

In a sauté pan, sweat vegetables in a little olive oil with salt until almost translucent then add crumbled Tofu and spices. Cook for about 10 minutes or until most of the moisture has evaporated and the tofu begins to brown. Add Spaghetti Sauce (canned or from your own recipe) and cook on medium high heat (or slightly lower if it is spitting all over your kitchen) until the sauce thickens. Serve on Onion Buns or your favorite hearty bread with a good strong cheese.

Ardent Photography Facts

Ardent Photography is based out of University Place, WA and serves greater Western Washington including Tacoma, Federal Way, Puyallup and Seattle.

I am an on-site photographer, which means I come to you and let the backdrop of your photographs be the important elements in your life. I have found that people let their true personalities shine through when they are in a comfortable setting. This is the idea behind Ardent Photography. I specialize in natural lighting and finding that right moment where "you" shines through. Portrait sessions start at $75 for a half hour session. Please visit the portraiture page for more information and print prices. You can contact me via E-mail at Sarah@ardentphotography.com or by phone at (253) 566-6175 to make an appointment for portraits.

Beyond portraiture, I enjoy creating unique photographic art pieces and am available for commissioned art assignments. When people think of commissioned photography they think of magazines or portraits, but there is another aspect, personal project photography. This is the area of photography that takes the objects in your life, the guitar you've had since high school, the heirloom brooch from Grandma Lorraine, and turns them into personal artistic photographs that can be gladly showcased in any room. I love being presented with a challenge and hope you will give me the opportunity to make the art on your walls unique and personal.

A Request...

Do you have a fondness for the four legged barking animals that many people share their domicile with? Do you want to pamper them with unique collars and comforting cleansing products? Why not check out Pacific Rain™?
